PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 188).

A STORE BLOW-UP

Exploding and Blazing Varnish Spreads Panio on Third Avenue.

Mother and Little Child Overcome by Smoke.

Ten Families Hurriedly Escape by Lad. ders and Over the Roof.

lond explosion, followed by flame and

It came from Paul Gantert's paint and var nish store in the basement of 514 Third avenne, which is a five-story tenement occupied

Reger citizens ran to sound the fire alarm. and in a few moments the engines were at work. Two alarms were sent out bringing

The fire roared menacingly, and every few minutes another and another can of varnish or turpentine went off with a bang.

The tenants of the house were seared out of their wits by the smoke, noise and confuof their wits by the smoke, home and consion.

The second floor is occupied by Dr. Bradford as a dental parior. At the first alarm the dector and a patient ran out and escaped threigh the ascending smoke to the street.

Many Crum and her two children climbed down the rear fire-escape from the third floor is a place of safety.

John Hameer, his wife, Matilda, and four children live on the third floor, rear. Three of the children were at school, but a girl remained at home, and she, with her parents, ran upstairs and went over the roof to the next house.

forms No. 1 dropped its hind wheel at hirty-third street and Third avenue, while a the way to the fire, and had to lay up for pairs. Oars on the avenue were blocked r half an hour by the disabled engine.

IT HAS BLEACHED THE HEAD OF THE AUSTRIAN EMPREOR.

London, March 19. - Despatches received here give most mournful accounts of the ion of the Austrian royal family since the death of the Orown Prince Budolp he has failen away rapidly in flesh. The Empress weeps for hours at a time, cannot sleep at all and is the object of much solicitude on the part of her physicians.

Francis Joseph has spells of grief which are terrible to witness, usually following conferences with friends of Budolph or after other incidents reminding him of the dead witness.

TO BRING NATALIE BACK.

PRANCE AND THE VATICAN. It is intimated from Pasis that in view of the present programmic of policy put forth by the Boulangists and its apparent indorse-ment by the church, much political signifi-cance is attributed to a frequent exchange of despatches between the Vatioan and various parts of France.

Not Buried Alive by Any Monn The friends of Deputy Coroner Philip E. Don-lin had lots of fun quiszing him this morning over the report in a morning paper that being somewhat in a hurry a few days ago he wrote out burial permit for a baby that, he was reported as saying. 'was going to die anyhow. The warm-bearted Deputy Coroner was much die-turbed over the report, and instated upon show-ing his quirzing friends the papers in the case, which entirely disprove the published story.

Said His Wife Took the Money. Jefferson Market Police Court to-de Christopher Wheeler, a driver in the employ of H. B. Claffin & Co., was held for trial for larceny. Wheeler was under the orders of Mo Dermott's Express to deliver C. O. D. orders On Dec. 22 he collected 2150 and disappeared When arrested he said that when he west hom under the influence of liquor his wife took in money from him.

Mrs. Langtry Will Go to Philadelphia. Mrs. Langtry is so much improved in health that she will leave for Philadelphia at 3 o'clock this afternoon. She will appear as Lady Macheth to-night.

without naussating those who take them, the little sugar-coated granules, known all over the land as Dr. Pirracu's Prassawr Pursarva Printers, produce an effect upor the bowels very different from that of a disagreeable, viciont purgative. No griping or drenching follows, as in the case of 8 drastic cholagogue. The relief to the intentines resembles the action of Nature in her happiest moods, the impulse given to the dormant liver is of the most salutary kind, and is guesdily manifested by the disappearance of all billions symptoms. Blee head-ache, wind on the stomach, pain through the right side and shoulder-blade, and yellownses of the skill and symbolic are speadly remedied by the Fights side and symbolic are speadly remedied by the Fights. The School.

THEY WERE INDEED HONEST. SICK PEOPLE WAKED BY FIRE HURLED DOWN SHAFT 15.

LOST POCKETBOOK.

for Discharged Convicts—The Purce Was Returned to the Florence Mission's Matron, With Contents Intact-And the Finders Docline Any Reward.

sion, No. 21 Bleecker street, while making some visits on Sunday, lost her nocketbook. It contained a check payable to Mr. Critten-ton, manager of the Mission, a five-dollar gold piece, a five-dollar bill and some change She is a very good and pious old lady, and money.

Mrs. Howell was overjoyed at the thought of these two men returning the purse and pressed them to take a reward, which they declined. Neither man had a cent when they picked up the pocketbook.

AFTER MR. CANNON'S COACHMAN.

of town, and his employer profess of his horses should be wanted by the servants of the law. He was, though, and for the fallowing reasons:

Edward F. Crosby, a lawyer from Montana and a nephew of Rev. Howard Crosby, visited Grace Church last Sunday in company with his wife.

After the service they were crossing Broadway at Twelfth street when Mr. Cannon's Jehu nearly ran into them, and Mr. Crosby's expostulations were met with abusive language from the coachman. Mr. Crosby awore out a warrant against the coachman in Jefferson Market Court yesterday on the charge of careless driving and abusive language.

Mr. Cannon told the officers that he had sent the coachman with some horses to his country seat in Vermont.

Of course, with the coachman in Vermont, the serving of the warrant will be deferred until his return. Possibly Mr. Crosby's until his return.

until his return. Possibly Mr. Crosby's sense of just wrath may have become appeased by that time, and he may not care to push the charge.

From the point of view of many swell coachmen, the passers-by are only in the way of the carriage folk, and scant time is given to them to get out of it.

in a Week, Is a Mild One.

Bellevue Hospital has a case of scarlet fever, the second within a week, and this time the victim is one of the oldest nurses in the institution, John Borham, a bachelor, thirty-five years old.

Just when and how Borham contracted the isease is not known, for there were no cases

Is Was Not a Steamer, as Supposed, but

In answer to numerous inquiries regarding the reported burning of a Sound steamer opposite Port Jefferson at an early hour last evening, a despatch was received from the Is One Hundred and Four Years Old. Mrs. Rebecca Sidner, of Deckertown, N. J., is one hundred and four years old. She is the oldset person in Northern New Jersey, and remem-bers seeing Washington and his body guards when they passed through the Pequest Valley on route to Morristown. She is yet quite active.

Dr. Currier Will Lecture. Influence of Purity of Life," at the Young Men's Institute, 274 Bowery, this evening.

Ask any eight dealer to show you the Histories and Portraits of our Heroes in the late war that are now packed in Tunkian Cross.

EARLY MORNING PANIC IN DR. DI MOISE'S PRIVATE HOSPITAL.

One Helpless Woman Wrapped in Blankets and Carried Downstairs Just in Time-The Rest of the Patients and the Dector's Wife Escaped in Their Night Clother -Quick Work by the Firemen.

The patients in Dr. G. Bettini di Moise's private hospital, at 5 University place, were aroused just before 2 o'clock this morning by the smell of smoke.

Fire had broken out in a small room adjoining the back parlor, and it spread with remarkable activity. The Doctor's brother, who slept on the top floor, stopped long enough to cry " Fire!" and then dashed out to give an alarm.

The Doctor himself, clad only in his nightdress and an overcoat rushed out of his room, just over where the fire blazed, and was met by a burst of flame and smoke.

With great presence of mind he quickly ran The room where the fire had started was a seething mass of fire, but the doctor faced it and shut the door, thus barring for a moment the progress of the flames. The parior doors he also shut and confined the fire to the rear. In the mean time the doctor's wife and three patients had escaped in their night clothes. One patient, a woman suffering with hip disease, remained behind, unable to move. The dector rushed upstairs, threw a move. The dector rushed upstairs, threw a few blankets around her and bore her down in his arms not a moment too scon.

All went to the Hotel St. Martin. a few doors distant. The firemen arrived quickly and soon subdued the flames. The house was damaged to the extent of $500, while the Doctor's unniture was damaged about $3,000. His is insured for $6,000

The rear room was stored with chemicals and medicines and the burning of these sent out thick clowds of black smoke, filling the entire neighborhood. The occupants of the houses on either side of the hospital were awakened by the smoke, and some becoming frightened rushed out into the street clad in nightdresses.

frightened rushed out into the street clad in nightdresses.

The fire would have been more destructive than it was had not the doctor shut the doors. The room is situated directly under the stairs and the flames would have swept clear up to the roof.

Dr. di Moise was enthusiastic in his praise of the firemen this morning. He marvelled greatly at the system which enabled the engines to arrive so quickly and at the dispatch with which they extinguished the fire.

fire.

"I am almost a stranger here and have never had an opportunity to witness such a scene. They are vary fine men and so polite. It is a grand service."

IT LOOKS BAD FOR COLLINS.

SWORN CHARGES OF SELLING OUT BY THE LEADER OF THE FOURTH.

Johnny Collins must step down and out of the leadership of the Republican organization of the Fourth Assembly District. At least Counsellor Alex. S. Rosenthal and the Hebrew-American Republican League, of which he is head, have said so and they are doing a bit of lively work at present knock. ing the political underpinning out of the enthal is in full accord with the Platt element and is not unacquainted with his neighbor across the way, John J. O'Brien, who cordially hates and hopes for the depowho cordinary have and hopes for the depo-sition of Collins.

One of the strongest and best-sustained charges against Collins is that of attem, ting to sell out the Republican candidate for Con-gressmen in the interest of Tim Campbell in gressmen in the interest of Tim Campbell in the last election.

Bernhard Wolff, a clothier, of 74 Essex street, makes the affidavit which proclaims Collins's guilt.

He swears that on Nov. 1, at 7.30 f. M., he was in an adjoining room to Rosenthal's parlor at 204 East Broadway, and overheard a conversation between Collins and Rosenthal, in which the former stated that he had agreed with Tim Campbell to turn over the votes of the Hebrew League to him in consideration of the payment of $2,500. This sum Collins proposed to divide equally between himself and Rosenthal.

After Rosenthal pretended to agree to this arrangement Collins left, and Rosenthal, accessed the Wolff was to the Original accession of the Collins left, and Rosenthal, accessed the Wolff was to the Original accession.

arrangement Collins left, and Rosenthal, ac-companied by Wolff, went to the Oriental Club, at Grand and Ridge streets, where they met Congressman Campbell.

To him Rosenthal related the conversation with Collins, and told Campbell not to pay Collins a cent as he could not deliver the goods.

With this evidence of Collins's treachery to his party the kickers against him and his rule expect to find it an easy matter to secure a reorganization of the district by the County Committee.

AN EAST RIVER COLLISION. Sound Steamer and Yacht Collide in Midstream, but Without Great Damage. Pedestrians on the bridge shortly after o'clock this morning, witnessed a collision on the East River between a small sailing yacht and one of the large Sound steamers. The Sound steamer was coming down stream at a rapid rate of speed. A small yacht passed under the bridge, going towards Hell Gate. Both crafts were in midstream, and as they came near each other the steamer and as they came hear each other the sceamer sounded a warning blast.

The yacht made a talse tack, and before it could be prevented ran into the steamer, striking her at the bow.

The yacht glanced off and turned half way around. The steamer was stopped, but as soon as it was ascertained that no great damage had been done it continued on its course. The yacht lost her jib, and her bowsprit was smashed into splinters. She ran up the river a short distance and then put ashore.

At Clifton To-Morrow.

fapecial to the evening world. 1 Clivton Race Trace, N. J. March 19,—Here are the Clifton entries for Wednesday, March 20: are the Clifton entries for Wednesday, March 20:
First Race-Purse $250; one mile and a sixteenth.—
Traveller, 124; Fon Booker, 134; Effie Hardy, 110:
Satisfaction, 115 lb.
Second Race-Purse $250; selling allowances; sevensightla of a mile.—Fiddler, 116; Monte Orieto, 115;
Harwood, 113; Flot, 111; Light House, 111; Sivee
Stilwell, 169; Windorf, 108; Futurity, 103 lb.
Third Race-Purse $250; selling allowances; sevensightler of a mile.—Conterf, 120; Lakewood, 119; Houcult. 119; Courtee, 116; Belmons, 116; Herlund, 114; Hanhope, 110; Is 5500; one mile and a sixteenth, worsh Race-Furse, 5500; herden, 116; Boddler, 116; Hanhope, 110; Speciment, 110; Boddler, 116; Hanhope, 110; Houndler, 110; Boodle, 110;
Arihar W. 106; Lamon Blosson, 116; Boddler, 116; Harwan, 116; Top Bawyer, 113; Heithe Loorum, 119;
Herwan, 116; Top Bawyer, 113; Heithe Loorum, 119;
Bellwood, 166; Hilds, 106; My Own, 106; Baluda, 100 lb.

ONE MORE VICTIM ADDED TO THE AQUE-DUCT'S LONG LIST.

An Irou-Londed Cage Throws Patrick Harty from a Swinging Ladder-His Crushed and Mangled Body Picked Up at the Shaft's Bottom, Mixty Feet from Daylight —AnUnsafe Passage Quer Death.

In the chilly gray of a dawning day a man n the prime of life goes to his daily toil. He is a laborer employed on the new Aqueduct. He works at shaft 15, just back of the picturesque country town of Hastings on the Hud-

He is a few minutes late. His comrades have all descended the yawning hole in the ground before him.

The cage used to lower them from and oring them to the surface of the earth is being used in lowering iron pipe into the powels of the earth. It is sixty feet to the bottom of the shaft.

The late arrival's only way of reaching i The late arrival's only way of reaching it now is by a series of rickety ladders joined to each other by ropes and wires.

Unhesitatingly he begins the descent, his dinner pail on his arm, his soft hat pulled down over his eyes, his blue shirt open at the neck, his corduroy pants in top boots.

A quarter of the way down, like a bird of ill omen, the eage goes swirling by him up to the top for another load of pipe. He scarcely heeds it. He is about half way down when there is a rushing noise above, and like an avenging augei the big iron cage loaded down with iron pipe shoots downward again. It sways from side to side. The man pipon upon the ladder stops.

He presses himself close up to the shaking ladder.

It is useless to cry out, and he knows it. A mirsele only will save his life. Miracles occur but seldom in this age, and none intervenes now to save his life.

The swinging cage slass him like a feather off the ladder, and, with his death shriek schoing and re-schoing through the cavern, he goes bounding down, striking here and there against the rocky sides, until he falls a shapeless mass of b'eeding flesh and broken bones amon; his comrades in the hole.

They didn't know who the unfortunate was at first. Daylight is never seen down there.

The only light emanates from the covered candles carried in the bands of their hats. Still a man killed in the aqueduct is not enough to disturb their equanimity to any great extent. The murderons iron cage comes down more alowly and is unlocked. Then the shattered body is tumbled into it and drawn up to pagain.

There it is identified as Patrick Harty, aged now is by a series of rickety ladders joined

Then the shattered body is tumbled into it and drawn up top again.

There it is identified as Patrick Harty, aged thirty-eight. Whether he is married, single, friendless or not is unknown. Like the other nondescripts on the aqueduct little is known about him, and his body will probably be buried in Potter's Field.

His comrades curse and growl at the contractors for having such an unsafe passage as the ladder. They say they are obliged to use it all the time, as the men who employ them find more profitable use for the cage in lowering pipe by it.

Still they go down by the ladder to the bottom to resume work again and the moottom to resume work again and the mo-entary excitement is over.

HUNTING EVIDENCE AGAINST STEIN.

Capt. McCullagh Will Then Get a Warrant for the Concert Hall Proprietor. Rudolph Stein's concert saloon, at 36 First street, where the singer, Babbette Stein, or Alice Cerdes, as she was known there, died on Sunday night, was closed as tight as a drum when an Eventus World reporter cash.

When Capt, McCullagh, of the Fifth street station, was asked if he intended to arrest station, was asked if he intended to arrest Stein for violating the excise law, he replied:

 Most assuredly, if I can get the evidence upon which to secure the warrant.
 Detective Bissert is out now looking for five reporters who drank beer there on Sunday night while working up the case of the woman. I understand that they are willing to testify against Stein. If so, I will have no trouble in securing a warrant to arrest him.
 The unfortunate woman Cordes was buried.

DINED WITH THE KHEDIVE.

Ex-Minister White and Prof. Fiske Pleas antly Entertained at Cairo.

(BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.)
LONDON, March 19. - A despatch from Cairo, Egypt, states that Andrew D. White, ex-States Minister to Germany, and Prof. Willard Fiske, formerly at Cornell University, who have been making a considerable stay in Cairo, expect to leave there to-day for an extended tour through Syria and the Holy Land.

During their visit special honors have been extended to them by the Khedive, and they were recently entertained at dinner by him at the palace.

BOSTON'S ANCIENT AND HONORABLE.

Its Coming New York Excursion to Be Glowing Success.

BOSTON, March 19.—Everything indicates that the New York excursion of the Ancien and Honorable Artillery Company is to be complete success, and the enthusiasm over the trip is unbounded.

The company will stay at the Grand Central Hotel.

The company voted $100 at rast night's meeting towards the expenses of the Massachusetts rifle team at the matches to take place in England the coming Summer.

Extending Long Branch Pier.

INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. LONG BRANCH, N. J., March 19.—The Long Branch Ocean Pier Company has decided to build eighty feet to the length of the pier at this place. The boat landing will be constructed sixty feet further out, which will insure suf-ficient water, and prevent striking on the sand-bar, which occurred several times last Summer.

Threatened to Burn the House. In the Tombs Police Court this morning Justice Power committed Michael G. Dingnan, of 58 New Chambers street, to the care of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction for examination as to his sanity, his wife having stated that he had threatened to burn the Hagan Gets Another Berth Assemblyman Hagan, the rustling Tammany Hall leader of the Sixteenth Assembly District, has secured another political berth for one of his constituents. Edward A. Reilly is the for-sunste individual. He entered upon his duties as recording clerk in the County Clerk's office O'CLOCK.

Debate in the Assembly on the "Evening World" Children's Bill.

Its Passage. First Shot of the Opposition Fired

Judge Green's Eloquent Speech in Favor of the Bill.

by Westchester's Bald Eagle.

This Question Is Far Above Philanthropy-It Is for Justice.'?

Assemblyman Roesch's Great Effort In Favor of the Pending Measure.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD,] ALBANY, March 18.-The special order of this morning was THE EVENING WORLD Child Committment bill, which gives the parents the right of appealing in cases where children are taken away from their care and custody. Elbridge T. Gerry, the President of the S. P. C. C., was busy all the morning about the chamber talking to the members and evidently preparing them to make a stiff fight aga:nst the passage of the bill. The bill was taken up in Committee of the Whole shortly after it had been called to

Mr. Hamilton made a strong speech in its avor, explaining the provisions of the bill. He showed that the ordinary writs of habeas corous and certiorari have no effect in the cases of these little children. He denied that there was any wish to interfere with the discipline of the institutions in which children are cared for. He said the enemies of the bill had scattered broadcast over the State the idea that this bill was intended as an attack on the institutions. Then James W. Husted, with whom Mr. Gerry had been laboring before the session was called, got up and attacked the bill. He had a stock of letters and telegram from managers of institutions, all in opposition to the bill, which he said he had reegived that morning, but which had all been left with him by Mr. Gerry.

called there this morning.

Friends of Stein say that after his license expired on March 1 be applied for another, which was made out and ready for him, but which he could not obtain for want of ready Christian homes.

Mr. Hamilton wanted the gentleman's permission to ask a question, but Gen. Husted declined and went on reading his letters.

Then he repeated Mr. Gerry's speech before the Judiciary Committee. The same history of the different institutions, the same story of the good work of the philanthropic men and women and the same dark picture of the effects of the hill if passed Judge Green made one of his best speeches of the session, and his record as an eloquent speaker is well known.

He presented the judicial aspects of the case, claiming that it was only right and just that there should be a review granted in every case, and that this bill simply gave the parents the right of an appeal. "This question goes far above philanthropy," he cried, "this is justice. I am as good a friend of the institutions as any man in the House, but when they demand that the right of review should be repressed I am against them, for I am for justice and for liberty before I am for philanthropy." John Connelly, the young orator from the west side, portrayed the evils of the present system of commitment without review. In many cases the agents of these societie were not above suspicion, he said, and frequently were tyrannical or stooped to base neans to gain their ends. He showed that many of the managers of these institutions were opposed to the bill because their institutions had a financial interest in keeping up the present system. Assemblyman Hitt, of Albany, said he had not known there was such a bill pending until he began to receive letters similar to those received by Mr. Husted. Then he examined the bill and he came to the conclusion that it was a just bill.

Certainly there must be something wrong when all these societies were objecting to merely having their action reviewe i. He told a story of how a great wrong had child had been stolen, and but for the fact that there had been a flaw in the commitment that child would have been lost for ever to its parents. With such a law as is promised by this bill, such a great wrong could not be done. Speeches were also delivered by Mr. Blumenthal and others, when Mr. Roesch, of had been done in the city of Troy by which a

New York, arose and delivered one of the best speeches of the day. He narrated several cases where great wrong had been done because there was no law in existence such as is contemplated by this bill.

Mr. Roesch then attacked Mr. Gerry, saying that "if a lobbyist named John Smith had come on the floor of this House and had lobbied against this bill he would have been expelled, but because his name was Eldridge T. Gerry he was allowed to come in and to set on this floor and lobby against this bill." Mr. Husted then arose to the defense of Mr. Gerry, and speaking very eloquently and asking that Mr. Roesch withdraw that

'Why should I withdraw it?" cried Mr. "W a can you call a man who comes before committees and sub-committees and comes on this floor and buttonholes members to vote against the bill ?"

MINISTER EVARTS, PERHAPS.

AND IF SO, SENATOR MILLER AND POSSI-BLE REPUBLICAN HARMONY.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] ALBANY, March 19 .- A rumor prevails here that Senator Evarts will resign from the Sen-Robert Ray Hamilton Stoutly Urges ate in order to accept the English mission. A prominent Federal officer said: "Sen ator Evarts has informed me that the English mission has been offered to him several times mission has been offered to him several times by previous Presidents, and that he had no desire for it."

Outside of this information, however, the impression prevails here that President Harrison has given the political leaders of the State to understand that if the Blaine people insist upon the nomination of Whitelaw Reid to the Court of St. James the President will substitute Benstor Evarts for the place.

His retirement from the Senate would simplify the political situation in this State, for Warner Miller would unquestionably succeed him, thus insuring to each faction of the party a representative in the United States Senate.

DIED FAR AWAY FROM HOME.

MRS. LOUIS WORMSER SUDDENLY EXPIRES IN SAN FRANCISCO.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENUE WORLD. San Francisco, March 19. - Mrs. Louis Wormser, sister-in-law of the well-known New York banker, died suddenly at the Palace Hotel last evening. She was having her hair dressed preparatory to attending a wedding when she complained of feeling ill. There was no time to call a physician be ore life was extinct. Bright's disease was the cause of death. Mr. and Mrs. Wormse had been on the coast several months and had returned from a trip to South but three

The silver wedding of the couple was to have been celebrated in a short time. Mrs. Wormser was well known in this city, being a sister of Maurice Schmitt. She had a wide circle of friends both here and in New days ago.

York.

Mr. Isidor Wormser, the head of the banking firm of I. and S. Wormser in the Mills building, received the sad intelligence of his brother's wife late last evening.

He was at his office early this morning and to an Evenimo Wonlo reporter said:

"My brother has been in California all the Winter with his wife, whose health has been poor some time.

Winter with his wife, whose health has been poor some time.

'They spent most of their time at Los Angeles, and Mrs. Wormser's health was apparently so much improved that they went to San Francisco, expecting to remain there about a month before returning to New York.

'Yesterday afternoon, my brother wires me, he went out to walk with his wife when she was suddenly taken violently ill, and had to be conveyed to the hotel where they were snaying.

"A physician was summoned, but she was beyond help and died shortly afterwards at the hotel."

Mr. Wormser, who was greatly affected during the recital, added that arrangements would be made as soon as no stible to bring the remains to this city for burial.

Louis Wormser is the oldest of the three brothers, and was for a long time at the head of the present banking firm. About ten years ago he re retired from business and since that time has lived a life of leisure.

His resistence is 2 East Sixty fifth street. Mrs. Wormser was forty-two years of age and has been an invalid for many years. A physician was summon

NO ASHTON-LANNON FIGHT.

The Police Followed the Men and the Match Was Declared Off.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 19.-The Ashton Lannon fight was declared off at a late hour in the night on account of police interference and the fact that the parties were closely fol-lowed. Both men were ready and in fine

Dr. Brandis's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Dr. Herman M. Brandis, editor of the German edition of Frank Lestie's Illustrated Necespaper, took place at St. Andrew's Church, on Duane street, this morning. Requiem mass was said by Rev. Dr. John Woods, D. D., assisted by Father O'Keefe, of St. Benedict the Moor's Church. P. J. Hanway, W. G. McLaughlin, W. A. Sawyer, W. J. Ellis and M.J. O'Connor attended as representatives of the Press Club.

Mr. Cleveland in the South.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 19. -Ex-President Cleveland and his party passed through here this morning. There was a large crowd a the depot and in response to loud calls for a speech from the ex-Pre-ident, Mr. Cleveland came out upon the platform and made a few remarks, which were loudly cheered by the Southerners.

A Soldier Found Dead.

William Stefton, a soldier at Fort Schuyler, aged about twenty-five years, was found on the road between Baychester and Westchester this morning. There was an ugly hole in the back of his head where the skuil had been fractured. Investigation showed that Stefton had been drinking heavily, and had either fallen or jumped off a car while intoxicated. Coroner Nordquist will hold an inquest this afternoon.

Rain, Preceded by Fair Weather. WASHINGTON, March

Average for past twenty-four hours, 48 degrees.
Average for corresponding time last year, 32 5-9 de

TORN BY A MAD DOG

PRICE ONE CENT.

Terror Created This Morning in a West Side Street

A Woman and Two Men Lacerated by the Frothing Brute

The Dog Shot by a Policeman After an Exciting Chase.

A splendid specimen of the Newfoundland dog dashed wildly through Perry street a few minutes after 8 o'clock this morning. He appeared so suddenly that no one knows whence he came. It was evident that he had travelled fast, if not far. His flanks were wet with pereptration, and steam rolled in clouds from his body. Foam fleeked his mouth, and blood discolored his nostrils.

His eyes were a fearful sight. The pupils were distended twice their natural size. The fiesh about them bulged down and showed the blood red tinted color inside. A big crowd of men and boys chased the animal, shricking: "Mad dog!" Between Washington and West streets a middle-aged woman was struggling home-ward with a basket of provisions. She did not notice the wild beast until he was close to her. Then she tried to run. She was too her. Then she tried to run. She was belate.

The strong brute sprang upon her and bore her to the ground. There she lay, screening wildly, while he fastened his white teeth in her arm. He chewed through fiesh and blood for several seconds before the crowd running behind came up and frightened him blood for several seconds before the crowd running behind came up and frightened him off.

For a moment he faced them, and there was a hurried scattering of the crowd. The woman was picked up unconscious. At the Charles street station-house she recovered and gave her name as Mrs. Beattie. Herright arm was severely lacerated.

She was sent to her home, at 152 Perry street, in a carriage.

After biting her the dog continued on down towards the North River until he met William Perry, aged thirty-three, of 336 West Eleventh street.

Parry tried to escape into a hallway, but the dog grasped him between his powerful teeth by the right leg and dragged him to the ground.

He bit the prostrate man savagely several times, and only left him to attack Charles Gibson, aged thirty-one, of 136 Charles street, who was running to Perry's assistance.

Gibson was knocked flat in a second.

The dog tried to bite his throat. A desperate tusele ensued on the sidewalk.

Gibson was bitten severely in several portions of his body before the animal turned and fled again. There was a clamorous crowd, including several policemen, after him by that time.

Volleys of stones were fired after him. He crowd, including several policemen, after him by that time.

Volleys of stones were fired after him. He rushed along and turned into West street.

He ran along that thoroughfare until he came to the French line pier, where he took refuge among a tier of barrels.

Policeman Nash, of the Charles street station, found his hiding place and shot him dead.

The owner of the dog could not be found. The animal was undoubtedly mad.

The people who were bitten had their wounds cauterized, and were doing well at noontime. They all went home.

SHE WOULD KILL PETER.

IMPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. PITTERURG, March 19,-Christine Hornber ger, a comely maiden of thirty-four years, has been allowed by the Court a week's time in which to rid herself of the idea that Peter

Peter and Christine met at a ball eighteen years ago, and did not meet again until last euce over her, that he sends into her almost constantly a current of electricity, which is, at m by stom, destroying her spinal cord. She claims that she made a trip to Mexico

CHICKEN THIEVES AT OAK VIEW.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD,) WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19. - The chicken-coop at Oak View has been in charge of Patrick, the watchman, since the de-parture of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, and last the burg ary was committed, and a demand has been made that the police force of Georgetown be immediately increased.

TRAMPS RUN THE GAUNTLET.

Vigorous Measures Adopted with Vagrants In Indiana. SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, ANTERSON, Ind., March 19. - A gang of tween two lines of men armed with poles and barrel staves. The tramps were terribly beaten, and were of cattle and three horses were burned in the fire which destroyed Samuel Taber's barn near Statersville this morning. Loss $5,000; ina Strange Meamoric Hallucination.

Lave Stock Burned with a Barn.

Keitz has mesmerized her and that she ough to kill him.

August.

Some years ago Miss Hornberger was employed as a domestic by Peter Amman. She became interested in memerism, magnetism and psychology, and these things have affected her mind. She makes a precarious living by peddling bottles of medicine of her own make.

She says that Keitz has a remarkable influence over her, that he sends into her almost one claims that she made a trip to Mexico for the purpose of escaping from his influence, but that it did not avail.

ven of Ex-President Cleveland's Choice Fowls Surreptitiously Removed.

night seven of the choicely bred fowls, having a lineage as ancient and pure as that of the Endicotts or the Adamses, were surreptitiously removed from the coops by some person or persons unknown.

Wherefore, the Washington papers gravely print maps of Oak View and theories of how eight tramps was forced to run the gauntlet alo g the railway at this place last night be-glad to find life enough left so that they could meak out of town.

This was the revival of an old custom which had kept Anderson free from tramps for several years. It was brought about through the fact that a number of women had lately been insuited on the streets by the vaccinities.

WOONSOCKET, R. L., March 19.—Sixteen head

Same Sunday of 1887 - - - 4.258 Same Sunday of 1885 - - - 3.326 136,323 Same Sunday of 1883 - - - 219 16,850 blinding smoke, alarmed passers by at Third avenue and Thirty-fourth street this morn-by ten families.

mained at home, and she, eith her parents, an upstairs and went over the roof to the most house.

Matilda Kerr and her two children, occupants of the fourth floor, rear, also ran upstairs and climbed to safety over the roof.

In the front scartments of the fourth floor live May, McKes and one child, a daughter. They very foolishly started to go downstairs, but when they reached the bottom they were almost overcome by the dense smoke.

They were revived at Capt. Ryan's station-house around the corner.

On the top floor were Mrs. Murphy and her two boys. Thomas and Joseph, aged five and two years. Mrs. Murphy was nursing the children, who were ill with diphtheris and scarlet fever.

Bits heard the explosion and, looking out of the window, saw the smoke and flame coming out of the basemant.

She picked her boy up and with the assistance of Mrs. Horan, the occupant of the rear rooms, get the sick oner up the leader to the roof, over to the nart house and thence down to the street.

They were taken to the Thirty-firth street station-house, and cared for until the fire was subdued.

The damage to Gentert's paint store is

GRIEF FOR DEAD RUDOLPH

The Emperor's hair has turned white and

Advices are also received from Belgrads denying the report that Queen Natalie is not to be allowed to return to Servia, and declar-ing that a gunboat has been sent to Galta to bring the Queen to Belgrade.

CENSURE FOR THE GOVERNMENT. It is said that failing in their efforts to hold a debate on the question of the salary of Atterner-General Wobster, the opposition will introduce in Parliament a formal motion of sensure of the Generaliam in the matter of proceedings in the Parnell Commission.

TWO EX-CONVICTS RESTORE MRS. HOWELL'S

Both of Them Are lumntee of the Refuge

Mrs. Howell, matron of the Florence Mis-

She is a very good and plous old lady, and when she discovered her loss she says she went to the Mission and prayed that the purse might be returned to her.

She had hardly finished her prayer when a ring at the door-bell announced a visitor. It was Manager Charles Stewart, of the Home of Industry, 40 East Houston street, which is now known as the Refuge for Discharged Conviets.

"Good afternoon, Mrs. Howell," he said, "Have you been out to-day?"

"I have," she reptied.

"Dul you lose anything?"

"Yes," she answered, describing the pocketbook.

Mr. Stewart then told her that two inmates

'Yes, 'she answered, describing the pocketbook.

Mr. Stewart then told her that two immates of his house had found the purse on the Bleecker street station of the Elevated road. Not a penny was missing nor had the contents been disturbed. The finders were both ex-convicts and have served time in Sing Sing. A. F. Simpson, thirty-six years old, one of the men, has served three terms, two for forgery and one for larceny. John Chestex, the other is twenty-one years old and has served two and a half years for larceny.

The restitution is remarkable, for the temptation must have been great. Yet, so thoroughly have these men reformed, they would not touch a penny, bimpson recently received a letter from one of his old triends, who offered him $50 a week if he would deal for his game. Blue would also give him $50 a week and 10 per cent. of his winnings if he would come over and play poker for the house.

Simpson turned the letter over to the manager of the house. Mr. Stewart said that he would trust these two men with any sum of money.

Mrs. Howall was overloved at the thought Lawyer Croeby Accuses Him of Carelo Driving and Abusive Lauguage. When the officers tried to serve a warran of arrest on the coachman of Le Grand Cannon that worthy was reported to be out normee of any reason why the manipulator of his horses should be wanted by the

BELLEVUE'S SCARLET-FEVER SCARE. lurse Berham's Case, Though the Se

A FIRE ON THE SOUND.

Bridgeport this morning saying that no steamer had been destroyed, but Henshaw's stables. a large structure situated on the beach at South Port, was burned at that time.

The flames lit up the heavens for miles around and might have been easily mistaken for a burning steamboat. Twenty-five horses were burned in the stable.

Dr. Andrew F. Currier will lecture on "The disease is not known, for there were no cases in the hospital when he felt the first symptoms of the fever, and it is not believed that he caught the disease from the nine-year-old boy, James Davis, who walked into the hospital on Tuesday with the fever plainly visible on his face. Borham's case was presented to the Board of Realth, and an inspector was despatched to Bellevue immediately and had the patient removed in a jiffy to the Reception Hospital at the foot of East Sixteenth street. Warden O'Rourke is indignant at the summary action of the Inspector, and says he intended to see that the patient was properly isolated in good time. Mr. Borham's case is a mild type of the scarlet fever, and this forenoon he was reported to be getting along as comfortably as could be expected. His ward, No. 30, in Bellevue was fumigated and all the patients removed.